

TWO AVIATORS FALL TO DEATH

Fatal Accidents Mar International Meet at Chicago.

CAUSE OF MISHAPS UNKNOWN

William R. Badger of Pittsburg Drops Into Pit When His Propeller Breaks and Dies in Less Than an Hour. St. Croix Johnstone of Chicago Falls Into Lake Michigan and Drowns Under His Machine.

Chicago, Aug. 16.—Two aviators, William R. Badger of Pittsburg and St. Croix Johnstone of Chicago, both young men, lost their lives at the international aviation meet here. In dying both revealed the frailty of the craft in which the two score more aviators were curving and gliding about in the air, with scarcely a pause for the deaths of their contemporaries.

Death in both cases was due to unexplained accidents, probably the results of unsuspected defects in the mechanism of the machines, and was in no way caused by carelessness or lack of responsibility of the drivers. Badger, a wealthy youth, careened to his death in a pit in the aviation field. There had been a flaw in one of the wings of the propeller of the Baldwin machine he drove. Centrifugal force broke the propeller and upset the delicate equilibrium of the machine and Badger dashed 100 feet to the bottom of the pit, his neck being broken.

Johnstone Falls 500 Feet.

Johnstone fell 500 feet under his engine and was drowned, as the result of an equally unexpected defect. Caught under the heavy engine in the Moisant monoplane he was carried deep into Lake Michigan and his body was not brought to the surface until an hour later.

Badger lived for three-quarters of an hour after he had been extricated from the remains of his machine. He did not recover consciousness and died almost at once after he had reached a hospital. His death was the first serious accident of the meet, although thirty-five flyers had dipped and glided here for three days. Experts say several similar accidents have been narrowly averted.

Badger flew purely as an amateur. He formerly drove racing automobiles. He was the stepson of John Goettman of Pittsburg and was twenty-five years old. He possessed an independent fortune and graced a well developed speed mania.

Probable Flaw in Mechanism.

Johnstone's accident was due, according to expert aviators, to a similar unsuspected flaw in the mechanism of his monoplane. Just what it was probably never will be known, as the engine is deep in the lake and the wood and canvas of the plane were broken and scattered by the tremendous impact with the surface of the water.

Johnstone's actual fall was witnessed by his young wife, although it was not until half an hour later that she was informed of his death.

Like Badger, Johnstone flew as an amateur. His father, however, had refused to buy him an aeroplane. Johnstone, who was twenty-six years old and ambitious, started to build one and went to France, where he entered the Drexel school of aviation. He then went to the Bleriot school and learned to fly.

After learning to fly in France Johnstone went to Havana, where he was the first to fly over the city. He gained a record when he was the first to fly around the wreck of the battleship Maine. He returned to the United States late in the spring and was immediately engaged by Alfred Moisant and had since been with the group of French aviators.

TWO KILLED DURING STORM

Tornado Injures Several Others in Divide County, N. D.

Noonan, N. D., Aug. 16.—A tornado which swept this section of Divide county caused the death of two persons, the fatal injury of one and seriously injured several others. The dead are:

William Paquin, aged thirty, St. Peter, Minn., laborer on Trux farm; Clarence Brevik, aged nineteen, Twin Valley, Minn., laborer on Milyard farm.

The men killed were caught while endeavoring to get from the barns in which they were doing the morning chores to the houses and root cellars. Two barns were entirely demolished. The storm came up out of a clear sky and was terrific, but did not cover a very large area. Outhouses and barns were razed in a strip of territory three miles long and a half mile wide.

O'Brien Easy for Langford.

New York, Aug. 16.—Sam Langford of Boston, with an advantage of about ten pounds in weight, fought Philadelphia Jack O'Brien to a standstill in four and one-half rounds at the Twentieth Century club. Referee Charley White prevented a knockout when he stepped the bout in the middle of the fifth round. O'Brien was practically out from the effects of a hard left jab to the jaw and had to be helped to his corner.

BITTER DEBATE ON WOOL BILL

Senators Exchange Caustic Remarks Over Measure.

ADOPTS CONFERENCE REPORT

Upper House Agrees to Underwood-La Follette Compromise by Vote of 38 to 28.—Wisconsin Senator Taunts Smoot and Reed of Missouri Takes Fling at Warren of Wyoming.

Washington, Aug. 16.—Bitterness at high tide overwhelmed the senate in a debate preceding the adoption of the Underwood-La Follette conference report on wool by a vote of 38 to 28. As "the citadel of protection," the Payne-Aldrich wool schedule was breached by the impact of the vote and the revised wool bill started on its way toward the expected veto of the president such a cloud of recrimination and denunciation was raised among the senators as almost to indicate that the old days of personal encounters may come again.

In the course of the trades, which in the main were among the two widely severed branches of the Republican party, Senator La Follette attributed the death of Senator Dilliver to the railroading through the senate of the Payne-Aldrich bill, which he said had forced every progressive senator to such herculean labors that the late senator from Iowa lost his health and his life.

Seizing the admission of Senator Smoot of Utah, that he owned stock in a woolen mill, Senator La Follette advocated a new senate rule which would prohibit any senator with a financial interest in a measure from voting or speaking upon it. When Mr. Smoot tried to interrupt him the Wisconsin progressive, who is now "the cook and the captain bold" of the senate, laid down another new rule which would prohibit any interruptions except on part of "senators who want to ask a civil question."

Reed Flings Poisoned Dart.

Senator Reed of Missouri flung one of the chief poisoned darts of the day toward Senator Warren of Wyoming, who owns many millions of sheep and whom Dilliver once called "the greatest shepherd since Abraham." Mr. Warren had yielded a portion of his time to Mr. Reed, who wanted to catechize Mr. Smoot. The pair discussed the formation of the Payne-Aldrich bill until Mr. Warren wearied and he remarked that unless the "ancient history is boiled down a little" he would claim the floor.

"I shall try to boil it down," said Mr. Reed slowly and cuttingly, "in plenty of time to give senators with special interests a chance to plead for their own interests."

This greatly angered Mr. Warren, who was speaking in behalf of greater wool duties and was so florid in utterance that many other senators looked at Mr. Reed in horror.

But at the end of it all the conference report was adopted by the usual Democratic-progressive alliance as against the futile minority of regular Republicans and the new amendment goes to the president.

Senator Smoot denounced the hasty manner in which the wool bill had been drawn and agreed on and sneered many times in the direction of Senator La Follette.

IN BEHALF OF TREATIES

President Taft Delivers Address at Ocean Grove, N. J.

Ocean Grove, N. J., Aug. 16.—President Taft continued his campaign before the people in behalf of the British and French general arbitration treaties here.

Speaking before the Ocean Grove Camp Meeting association the president reviewed in comprehensive fashion the terms and meanings of the pacts, but declared that he did not fear the effect of delay.

The longer the senate holds these treaties, and he does not expect action upon them at the special session, the president argued, the greater will be the opportunity for him to preach the gospel of peace and arbitration and the greater will grow the sentiment for the agreements.

Voluntary Petition Filed.

Minneapolis, Aug. 16.—Neils Engstrom, grain dealer and president of the Neils Engstrom Grain Commission company, has filed a petition in bankruptcy in the federal district court, giving his assets at $87,271.96 and liabilities at $158,058.90. Mr. Engstrom has been a member of the chamber of commerce for about ten years.

Auto Ride Is Fatal.

Billings, Mont., Aug. 16.—As the result of the overturning of an automobile in which a party of four was riding west of here Miss Mabel Hunter was instantly killed and Luke M. Hawley, Miss Harriet Dashner and Carl Lindberg, chauffeur, were seriously injured.

CAUGHT IN THE QUICKSAND

Two Girls Drowned While Bathing Near Cloquet, Minn.

Cloquet, Minn., Aug. 16.—Pearl, aged fourteen, and Florence, aged thirteen, daughters of James Dunphy of Carlton, were drowned in Chub lake. The girls were bathing near the McKinnon cottage. It is supposed they were caught in quicksand. One girl was dead when taken from the water and although every means was used to resuscitate the other girl she died an hour after being taken from the water. Mr. Dunphy is a merchant of Carlton and an old resident of Carlton county.

REIGN OF TERROR AT LIVERPOOL

Railway Men Decide on General Strike in Britain.

Liverpool, Aug. 16.—At a meeting of the executives of the Amalgamated Society of Railway Servants, the Society of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen and the General Railway Workers' union a resolution was adopted unanimously declaring a general railway strike throughout the whole United Kingdom.

A reign of terror exists here and troops are pouring into the city to put down disorder. A special guard has been detailed to protect the landing stage of the transatlantic steamers, which, it is asserted, the rioters have planned to destroy by fire.

Five prison vans, escorted by fifty Hussars, which were carrying riot prisoners from the police court to Waltham jail, were attacked by 3,000 members of the rougher class in Vauxhall street in an attempt to rescue the prisoners. The mob attacked the soldiers with missiles of every description and in defending themselves the Hussars fired.

Two Men Are Killed.

At first blanks were used and then ball cartridges. In this affray one man was killed and many persons were severely wounded. The troops then charged the mob with drawn sabers and cleared the street. So daring were the rioters that one of them tried to unhorse an officer, who was obliged to use his revolver, wounding a man severely in the head. The rioter died later in a hospital.

Another but less serious affray, in which the troops again were compelled to fire, took place in Bond street. Only a few persons were wounded.

In each case before the troops were ordered to fire many of their number had their faces streaming with blood from injuries caused by stones and broken bottles thrown by the rioters.

Still another riot took place in the Everton district, where the mob was trying to stop the street cars. The riot act was read, but the disorderly element answered with a fusillade of stones, injuring several policemen. This disturbance, however, was quelled without aid from the military.

MAY ADJOURN ON AUG. 23

House Leaders Planning to Pass Bills Over Veto.

Washington, Aug. 16.—Democratic leaders in the house are agreed upon a very definite program as to what is to be done between now and the adjournment. From the standpoint of general interest in the business world, and also to members of congress, the date of adjournment is of first importance and unless something unforeseen happens congress will adjourn at noon on Wednesday, Aug. 23.

The legislative program of the leaders in the house now contemplates passing the following bills over President Taft's veto: Statehood, wool and the farmers' free list.

CHANDLER SEES SENATE CHANGES

Former Member Looks Over Body From the Gallery.

SAYS LEADERS ARE GONE.

Senator Bourne of Oregon Is Confident That La Follette Will Be Nominated by the Republicans Next Year—He Says Great Reforms Can Thrive Only by Encountering Resistance.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Aug. 16.—[Special.]—"Ten Years After" might be the title of a little sketch by William E. Chandler of New Hampshire. The ex-senator was sitting in the gallery recently, although he has the right to go upon the floor and make himself very much at home.

"I cannot tell you all those men are down there," he said. "There have been many changes since I was a senator. The senate is much different; the questions discussed are different. The leaders have changed. In fact, we have no leaders on our side."

"We" and "our side" meant the Republicans, for Chandler was ever an intense Republican. He does not agree that the senate has deteriorated; he is not the kind of man to say there has been a falling off because he is no longer in the senate. And yet he does mourn the loss of many men that were prominent in his day.

Chandler and Wolcott of Colorado went together. "Let us," said Wolcott in the last executive session they attended, "tell them what a loss the senate is sustaining." And that is what they did. While they were joking, there are many who thought that in the brilliant and oratorical Wolcott and in the sarcastic and epigrammatic Chandler the senate lost much.

Needs Opposition.

If Senator Bourne of Oregon was to be given a middle name it would be "Optimistic." Never was a man so sanguine of success in everything he undertakes. He was confident that Roosevelt would be nominated for a "second elective term." He is just as sure that La Follette will be nominated by the Republicans next year.

"This opposition to the progressive policies," remarked Bourne when they were fighting the Arizona recall, "is just what we want. No great movement can succeed without strong opposition. Every great reform goes forward the more it is resisted. We could not ask for anything better than the fight that has been made against popular government during the session."

House Pedestrians.

"Tramp, tramp, tramp, the boys are marching." That might have been the lay of a large portion of the house membership during the past two weeks. There was nothing to hold the members in the house, and they would remain in their offices until the bells jingled a call for a quorum. Then they would tramp over and answer to their names and tramp back to their offices. The e would be other roll calls during each day, and those who wanted the record to show that they were attending to the congressional business marched back and forth many times a day.

His Late Reward.

Larz Anderson, who was recently appointed minister to Belgium, waited long for his reward. Anderson was one of the men who made substantial contributions to the Republican exchequer in the last campaign. Afterward in talking with a friend he said that there ought to be something he sides offices with which to reward men who had done much for a successful candidate, because it was embarrassing to the man elected to find places for everybody. He suggested titles of nobility, but it is too much of a task to change the constitution so as to allow that system to prevail, and one can imagine just what the people would do to a senator or representative who would try to get such an amendment through congress. Mr. Anderson owns one of the largest and finest mansions in Washington.

Looking After His Bill.

The house was passing bridge bills, and one was reached for a bridge across the Palmers river, in Rhode Island. "I do not see the author of this bill in the hall at this moment," said Chairman Adamson, who had charge of the bills.

"I beg the gentleman's pardon," and up rose Congressman O'Shaughnessy of Rhode Island. "I am here looking after my bill and have been here all the morning."

He is a new member, but he wasn't caught napping when one of his bills was coming up.

An Impressive Speaker.

Senator Clapp was making a vigorous speech on his favorite subject, popular government, a subject that he has discussed in many states during the summer. "Clapp would make a good exhorter," was the comment of a man in the senate gallery. The earnest manner of the Minnesota senator, his ready command of language, the fact that he was thoroughly imbued with his subject, showed that the observer had made a correct guess. This same manner won him many cases in the courts when he was practicing law and was recognized as an effective pleader.

DISMISS GRAFT INDICTMENTS

San Francisco Higher Court Issues Peremptory Mandate.

San Francisco, Aug. 16.—The district court of appeals for the First district issued a peremptory writ of mandate to compel Superior Judge William P. Lawlor to dismiss indictments pending against Patrick Calhoun, Thornwell Mullally, Tiley L. Ford and William M. Abbott, charged with bribing the Ruef-Schmitz supervisors in connection with the United Railroads trolley franchise.

The decision ends the graft prosecution financed by Rudolph Spreckels and prosecuted by Attorney Francis J. Heney and Detective William J. Burns immediately after the fire.

DENY ANY INTENTION TO DISCREDIT TAFT

House Democrats Refute Republican Insinuations.

Washington, Aug. 16.—Republicans charged in the house that Democratic members of the interior department expenditures committee, after allowing the administration and the name of President Taft to be reflected upon by "hysterical publicity," of "scandalous and scurrilous" reports in connection with the Alaskan Controller bay land claims affair, had dropped the investigation to prevent the real truth from becoming known.

Representative Graham of Illinois and Representative Ferris of Oklahoma, Democrats of the committee, denouncing these charges as untrue, declared the committee purposes to prosecute the inquiry until all obtainable facts are brought out.

Mr. Graham, who is chairman of the committee, intimated that the Democratic majority of the committee is not by any means satisfied that President Taft did not err when he permitted Richard Ryan of New York to obtain the water front tract on Controller bay. He said it was now known that the president made a mistake when he "sacrificed" Louis R. Glavis in the Ballinger-Pinchot controversy and that it was entirely possible that he had erred again. He added, however, that the Democrats on the committee had too much respect for the president to make the attack on him the Republicans asserted had been made.

GERMANY FALLING IN LINE

Desires Arbitration Treaty With the United States.

Washington, Aug. 16.—Almost in the same hour that the senate committee on foreign relations reported to the senate its conviction that the recently negotiated arbitration treaties between this country and Great Britain and France were "breeders of bitterness and war," Germany, through its ambassador here, was announcing its desire to be a party to a similar arbitration compact with the United States.

Germany made known to Secretary of State Knox through Ambassador von Bernstorff its acceptance of the general principles of arbitration as laid down in the secretary's draft, recently submitted. A few exceptions were noted, however, and Count von Bernstorff will sail Saturday for Germany to consult his government further. He will return in October.

WILL BUILD INTO CANADA

Minneapolis and St. Louis Line to Be Extended.

St. Paul, Aug. 16.—St. Paul now bids fair to clinch its title as gateway of the Canadian Northwest, in addition to the gateway to the territory this side of the border, according to a dispatch received from New York announcing that the Minneapolis and St. Louis railroad will be extended to the Canadian border to connect the two Dominion roads now being built and the one already extending to the Pacific coast. The announcement was made at a meeting of the board of directors of the Iowa Central and Minneapolis and St. Louis railways.

HUSBAND ACCUSED OF CRIME

Woman Found Murdered Near Montevideo, Minn.

Montevideo, Minn., Aug. 16.—Albert O. Bourne will be held here on a warrant to be issued following the verdict of a coroner's jury inquiring into the cause of the death of Bourne's wife, whose body was found on the road five miles east of here.

The body was identified as that of Mrs. Bourne after a horse, found near the body, had been turned loose and had gone directly to Bourne's home.

Mr. and Mrs. Bourne left their home, neighbors say, for a drive. They were seen near the scene of the crime. Later Mrs. Bourne was found near the roadside with her skull crushed. There was nothing on her person to identify her and not until the horse had led the searchers to the Bourne home was her identity established.

SCORES RECALL OF JUDGES

President Taft Vetoes Joint Resolution for Statehood.

Washington, Aug. 16.—President Taft, in a special message to the house of representatives, vetoed the joint resolution providing for the admission of New Mexico and Arizona to statehood. His reason for exercising the executive power of veto was based on his thorough disapproval of the recall of judges clause in the Arizona constitution.

The fact that New Mexico's statehood was bound up with that of Arizona meted out to her the same fate and neither territory can come into the Union at this time unless friends of the joint resolution in congress can muster the two-thirds vote necessary to pass the resolution over the president's veto. This may be attempted.

The president did not spare words in condemning the recall feature of the Arizona constitution which, he said, would compel judges to make their decisions "under legalized terrorism."

Minnesota Tornado Causes Death of Two Persons.

GREAT LOSS OF PROPERTY

Unconfirmed Reports Say Many Persons Have Been Killed and That the Extent of the Disaster Will Not Be Known Until Wires Are Working Again—Storm Starts Near Benson and Sweeps to the Southwest.

Appleton, Minn., Aug. 16.—A tornado which started near Benson swept southwest, caused the death of two persons, razed many farm homes and barns and created general havoc throughout this section.

At Halloway it is reported an elevator and several houses were blown down and the Great Northern depot was wrecked.

Four miles from Halloway the farm residence of Herman Trager was demolished. Mrs. Trager was instantly killed and her four-year-old daughter received injuries which caused her death three hours later. Trager, it is said, was at Halloway when the storm broke. Mrs. Trager had just finished supper. Doctors were called from Appleton by neighbors, but found the mother dead in the wreckage of the home and the daughter unconscious and dying.

Telephone and telegraph wires are all down and it is almost impossible to learn the extent of the storm or the number of fatalities. A freight conductor who went over the Great Northern line south from Benson stated that twenty had been killed in the vicinity of Halloway, but so far no reports of other fatalities have been received.

John Parker, a farmer residing three miles from Halloway, was driving home when the storm overtook him, picked up the wagon and team and, it is reported, deposited it a hundred feet distant. Parker's legs were both crushed when the wagon came back to earth.

On the D. W. Little farm, five miles east of Appleton, the barn was blown into kindling wood and scattered about the prairie, while the family escaped injury by seeking refuge in the root cellar.

On the farm of Carl Geese, near Halloway, the barn was blown down, burying four horses and several cows. The animals were rescued, but were badly battered up. The wreckage of the barn is scattered about the prairie.

In Appleton many small structures were blown down and much window glass was broken by flying debris.

Danvers, Willmar, Benson, Halloway and Appleton are the only towns to report damage as yet and the country districts appear to have been hit the hardest. It is believed that further reports of casualties and damage will come in.

SIMPSON MAY LEAVE OFFICE

Said Minnesota Attorney General Intends to Resign.

St. Paul, Aug. 16.—Although Attorney General George T. Simpson would not give either a denial or affirmation it was positively asserted by his closest friends that the attorney general would confer with Governor Eberhart and would then tender his resignation to take effect Jan. 1, 1912, to take up the practice of law in Minneapolis.

It has been common knowledge at the capitol for some time that Mr.

GEORGE T. SIMPSON.

Simpson was considering resigning and for the past few days it has been the chief topic of discussion whenever politicians met. Whether his resignation will affect his gubernatorial aspirations, if he has them, is a matter of difference of opinion among those in the political game, some asserting his chances would be increased and others that resignation now would kill a possible boom.

tive in politics and to be a leader would mean much activity. However the LaFollette insurgents claim they have had the right hunch. Taft will not need as strong an organization as LaFollette's supporters would try to have the people imagine. Minnesota will be for him without very much effort on the part of a campaign committee.

The rural carriers in session at Minneapolis have asked by petition that the department under which they work designate Christmas as a holiday instead of requiring them to perform the same duties—only more of it—on that day as any other. Christmas is not observed in post-office circles as a holiday to that extent with which the other holidays are, presumably because many a belated Christmas package would not reach its destination in time to be enjoyed by the recipient. If Uncle Sam's mail men closed up business on that day, the Minnesota rural carriers also asked that farmers be required to wrap coin for stamps in paper when dropped in their mail boxes in order that it might be handled with more convenience.

Washington reports that Senator Nelson will not be a candidate to succeed himself has had the effect of causing a feeling of disquietude among the gentlemen of Minnesota who owe their ability of drawing a monthly salary from the government to the senior senator, and some of them are offering the Alexandria statesman advice on the subject. When Senator Nelson feels that he is ready to retire it will take something more than the wail of an office holder to induce him to change his mind. It is not probable that the gentleman has given anyone the tip that he is through and until he does there is no need of worrying over the matter. Minnesota friends of Senator Nelson will know of his decision in the matter long before the Washington politicians and space writers.

A former Wadena man has been appointed secretary of state of Montana to succeed the late A. N. Yoder. The new official is T. M. Swindelhurst who was educated in the schools of Minnesota and in 1885 went to Livingston, Minnesota is honored.

In Omaha the joy riders have so annoyed the public that the city has decided to build thank-you-marms 200 feet apart throughout the city in order to lessen the speed limit. Going at the rate of ten miles an hour the occupants of automobiles would scarcely notice the jolt but at a rapid rate of speed the occupants of cars would be given a jolt that would bring them to their senses. The police seem to be powerless to reduce the speed of the machines in that city.

The idea that Marshal Grimshaw is to manage the campaign of Pres. Taft is denied by that official, who claims that his position would prevent if nothing else—for government officials are not supposed to be too active in politics and to be a leader would mean much activity. However the LaFollette insurgents claim they have had the right hunch. Taft will not need as strong an organization as LaFollette's supporters would try to have the people imagine. Minnesota will be for him without very much effort on the part of a campaign committee.

E. V. VanWalk left for St. Paul on a business trip this noon and also contemplates a trip to Rochester to consult the Drs. Mayo. Having been in ill health for the last year or so, Mr. VanWalk left the service at the local shops here last week, where he has been employed for the last 13 or 14 years or most of that length of time as sheet metal worker. After returning from the cities he will probably follow some business around town or outside employment. At last night's meeting of Unity band Mr. VanWalk was tendered a vote of thanks by the band boys for having conducted the office of treasurer and other minor positions on good business principles and all wished him success in the future.

BRAINERD WILL BE RE-ASSESSED

State Tax Commission," Says Auditor Smart, "Will Appoint Assessor to Re-assess City

ON MONEYS AND CREDITS

he Law, However, Does Not Appear Constitutional to Many Lawyers and Other Citizens in City

County Auditor J. F. Smart has returned from St. Paul where he attended the session of the state tax commission.

"Brainerd," said Mr. Smart, "will be re-assessed under the new money and credits law. An assessor will be appointed by the state tax commission. Brainerd is not the only town to be re-assessed, as Little Falls and two other towns in Morrison county; St. Cloud, Cold Springs and several other towns in Stearns county are also to be re-assessed. Pequot and Deerwood in this county were not disturbed.

"The tax commission stated that they were there to carry out the new law and that if they allowed Brainerd to go undisturbed this year it would cause trouble among the towns which had made a large returns. And as county auditor is under bonds to observe the law there is no other way than to carry out the provisions of the new law."

At the meeting in St. Paul were county auditors from Rice, Morrison, Otter Tail, Crow Wing and Kandiyohi counties. The variations between cities appeared startling to the tax commission.

The St. Paul Pioneer Press had the following to say about the matter:

"The state tax commission, which is preparing for its annual work at the state board of equalization, is unable to account for the big differences in the assessments in different cities of the state under the new money and credits law. For instance, in the little town of Kasson the per capita assessment is $213 under the new law, while in Brainerd the average amount of money and credits reported for each person is only $12.

"The commission is at a loss to know whether there is that great difference in the wealth of the respective towns of whether the assessor was running for re-election, and thus was lenient with his constituents, or whether the assessor came around in the wrong season.

"Anyhow, the commission will have a conference with the auditors of the counties where the 'low' towns are located and it will be up to them to explain why their citizens are so proportionately poor.

"The inequalities in the returns of the assessment of money and credits in the various cities and towns of the state are startling when compared with the population thereof," said one of the commissioners yesterday. "Of course the presence of a few wealthy men in one town would make some difference but we do not see how the overwhelming difference in many instances can be accounted for in that way."

"The following figures compiled by the commission show the great variation in the assessment of the different cities in proportion to population in the cities so far reported:

	Population	Total Ass'tmt	Ass'tmt Capita
Stillwater...	10,198	$923,764	$91
Mankato...	10,365	743,553	71
Red Wing...	9,948	1,443,986	157
Faribault...	9,001	243,928	27
Northfield...	3,265	516,279	159
Wilmar...	4,035	146,749	35
St. Cloud...	8,611	113,871	13
Brainerd...	8,526	102,660	12
Albert Lea...	6,192	177,742	28
Kasson...	932	199,098	213
Hutchinson...	2,368	204,914	86

*Cents omitted.

Note—In the above table only the population and assessment of that portion of St. Cloud located in Stearns county is given."

The tax is 30 cents on the hundred dollars but is makes a lot of work in any county auditor's office. Parallel columns of virtually the same matter must be carried out. It means the purchase of a lot of new books.

Many lawyers and other citizens think the law unconstitutional. A tax as every one knows is placed on and paid on the property in a store. This is sold in the majority of instances on credit and there isn't a merchant anywhere who hasn't a large number of book accounts. The business of the country is virtually all done on credit. To be honest in the matter one would have to make a return of his credits for which in some instances store keepers would be glad to take 25 cents and 50 cents on the dollar.

Under the law the original property and the credit allowed the purchaser who has taken over such property are both taxed. In this county most of the assessors and all the commissioners were not in favor of it but all obeyed the law and did the best they could to interpret its provisions.

WHO PAYS THE TAXES?

St. Louis County, Has Up to Date, Paid in More Than Hennepin and Ramsey Counties Together

St. Louis county has contributed $379,824.68 to the support of the state, as a result of the tax collections for the period from March 1 to June 1. A draft for $300,000 was sent in by the county auditor some time ago and the draft for the balance, $79,824.68 was sent in August 15. The total taxes collected in St. Louis county amounted to $3,017,065.83.

Thus far Ramsey county has paid $100,000 of her taxes and Hennepin $175,000. The balance is expected soon.

TO IMPROVE ROADS

Crow Wing County Automobile Association to Work on Roads Tuesday

The Crow Wing County Automobile association plans on setting aside certain days for work on the roads in this vicinity. Tuesday, August 22, is the first of these work days, at which time work will be done on the road between Brainerd and Mille Lacs. All automobile owners are requested to join the party on this date, bringing any assistance possible, and also bringing shovels, axes or any other advisable tool.

Any assistance that the farmers along this road wish to give us on Tuesday will be greatly appreciated. Automobile owners who wish to join in this movement for the improvement of Crow Wing county's roads will kindly notify Dr. J. A. Thabes.

AN UNFAIR COMPARISON

Brainerd Does Not Relish the Publicity Given it by State Tax Commission

WAGE EARNERS LIVE HERE

No Millionaires in Brainerd Like Kasson Boasts of—Kasson is Also Over 50 Years Old

Brainerd citizens do not relish a bit the publicity which has been given this town by the state tax commission regarding the money and credits taxation.

The town of Brainerd and the town of Kasson have been compared in the amount of taxes returned and their populations as follows: Brainerd, population, 8,526; assessment $102,560, assessment per capita $12. Kasson, population 932, assessment $159,098; assessment per capita $213. The difference appears startling until one understands something about the towns.

Brainerd is essentially a town of wage earners. Less than 99 per cent can be termed people who are capitalists or rich enough to cease their daily labor.

Kasson, on the other hand, is the home of Banker Slingerland reputed to be a millionaire several time over and possessed of so much Dodge country land that he can hardly keep track of it. Kasson is also the residence of Sam Lord of the Minnesota state tax commission. Kasson was a wealthy town 50 years ago and it was in the center of a rich community before Brainerd was ever heard of. Land near Kasson has been $100 and over an acre many years while Crow Wing county still offered a poor man a chance to buy a farm at a cheap price.

And another point raised in Brainerd is "who pays for the re-assessment of Brainerd?" Does the city or the state tax commission? Many in Brainerd believe that the appointee for the job of re-assessing on moneys and credits better give more attention to where he will get his pay than to figure on what work is to be done.

BRAINERD AT LITTLE FALLS

Two Games Sunday With the Down River Team—Special Train Service on That Day

The Little Falls Transcript says: Manager Moelehn has completed arrangements with the management of the Brainerd baseball team and a double header for next Sunday is a sure thing now. Not one of the baseball fans who is in the city Sunday should miss these games as they are sure to be interesting and Brainerd has made arrangements to have about six hundred rooters come down. In fact that number have shown their intentions to come by signing a list and it would appear as though the home team were not getting support to amount to anything, if they could not get out as large a crowd of rooters in their home town as a visiting team can.

Although there is little doubt as to who will win, still the games will be at least hard fought enough to make them very exciting. The up-town team is fully determined to make the Blues bow down before them as the victorious ones, but the local boys are still fully determined to repeat the trick which is so old that it has become a habit and that is to humiliate the Brainerd team as they have always done in the past.

The first game will be called at 3 o'clock and the other at 5:30 o'clock. The Brainerd line up will be as follows:

A. G. Loom, ss; H. S. Paine, 1b; Leslie Bush, p; Thos. Templeton, 3b; V. N. Roderick, c; C. A. Bush, 2b; Harold Kalland, rf; Clyde Trent, cf; J. H. Alderman, p, 2nd game; S. P. Sheffield, lf.

The Brainerd management say that six coaches have been ordered but as these will not accommodate all who wish to come more coaches must be asked for.

Dominick will pitch the first game and Newman the last.

H. W. Topping Gives His Friend, H. Orme, of St. Paul, an Interrupted Auto Ride

H. W. Topping, of St. Paul, a member of the foundry firm of Parker & Topping, had often promised his friend, H. Orme of that city, a flying trip in his auto to Brainerd and yesterday Mr. Orme accepted the invitation. Mr. Topping's big car fairly ate up the road on the way up and the scenery flew so fast that Mr. Orme was impelled to ask his friend Topping every moment where they were.

St. Cloud was passed at such a gait that it looked no larger than Baxter. But 7 miles out of that saintly city Mr. Topping's auto slowed down and eventually came to a dead stop. While Mr. Orme sat around and waited Mr. Topping went at the vitals of that machine and hammered and pounded and oiled and occasionally said things which caused the gentle Mr. Orme to stir in amazement.

The end of the story is that the auto ride was not completed and Messrs. Topping and Orme made the last lap of their journey by train.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

A Notable Attraction

"The Rivals," one of the most wonderful comedies the stage has known in over one hundred years, will be presented at the Brainerd opera house on Saturday evening, August 19, by William Yule and his clever company.

Mr. Yule is a comedian of excellent talent and reputation and his appearance in such a noted play will be a signal for delight on the part of Brainerd lovers of literature and the drama.

"The Rivals" is all comedy. It is a comedy that can be laughed at during its production and afterwards recalled with keen enjoyment. It is a comedy one does not blush to have enjoyed. It is a comedy the working man can appreciate and laugh at with as much zest as does his neighbor the litterateur. Mr. Yule and his company should give us a performance all classes of theatregoers will hail with delight. The production will be most lavish in all the details of costume and scenery, and the cast one which will do ample justice to the undying fame of the author, Richard Brinsley Sheridan.

At The Empress

The star film at the Empress is "That Baseball Star from Bingsville." It shows the hero of the play hammering out a home run in his small home town. A scout from one of the city leagues happened to be around and he picks up Binn McGuffy for a try out. Binn is taken to the city and introduced to the players at the training quarters. He is put through a course of training. A big league game is shown and its grand stand with its thousands of spectators. But it would not be proper to relate all of Binn's experiences and these are left untold so that the visitor may enter the Empress and see the balance of the funny story for himself.

SINCLAIR ON HIS DAY IN JAIL

He Didn't Eat, Sleep or Drink For Eighteen Hours.

WORKED ON THE STONE PILE.

Author Was Imprisoned For Playing Tennis on Sunday, Thereby Breaking the Delaware Laws—Experience Suggested a Poem—His Comments.

Upton Sinclair, the author, who served a jail sentence of eighteen hours for violating the blue laws of Delaware by playing a game of tennis on Sunday, did not eat or drink during his incarceration. During the day he worked on the prison stone pile along with forty other prisoners, white and black, and at night lay on the stone floor of the steel cell without a blanket. He declared the food was too vile to touch and that he was afraid of the water.

He did not close his eyes throughout the night. Instead the surroundings of the place and the moanings of many of the 237 convicts inspired him to compose a poem. This he did mentally. Subsequently between loads of stone that he dumped from a wheelbarrow into a stone crusher he wrote it out line at a time. The lines are appropriate to the night in jail and are entitled "The Menagerie." The presence of unwelcome visitors in the cell that Sinclair occupied suggested the circus-like name. The poem reads:

THE MENAGERIE.

Oh, come, ye lords and ladies of the realm;
Come from your couches soft, your perfumed halls;
Come walk with me throughout the weary hours
Here are there sounds to fill your jaded nerves.
Such as the cave men, your forefathers, heard
Crouching in forests of primeval night.
Here, tier on tier, in steel barred cages pent,
The beasts ye breed and hunt throughout the world.
Hark to that snore—some beast that slumbers deep.
Hark to that roar—some beast that dreams of blood.
Hark to that moan—some beast that wakes and weeps.
And there in sudden stillness hark the sound—
Some beast that rasps his vermin haunted hide.
Oh, come, ye lords and ladies of the realm—
Come, keep the watch with me, the show is yours.
Behold the source of all our joy and pride.
These beasts ye harness fast and set to draw
The chariots of your pageantry and pomp.

Called It a Lark.

"It was nothing more than a lark," Sinclair said. "The experience was one of the most interesting I have ever had. I will write about it." The author laughed when he narrated his work in the prison quarry. "I wheeled 100 wheelbarrows of stone to the crusher, worked seven hours, wore the regulation jail garb and had two baths."

Sinclair lost three pounds while in jail. "This," he explained, "was due to the fasting." A number of times while talking with newspaper men he declared: "And this for playing tennis on Sunday. It makes me feel like blowing up some one with a bomb." He did not say who that "some one" might be. The principal comment that the author had to make was on conditions at the workhouse. He continued: "Oh, those bestial faces! I never saw such a parade in my life. We were forced to march to the eating room with our hands folded and to eat in silence. I did not eat. The workhouse has a sweatshop that beats any in New York a mile. The convicts never get out of doors, never see the sky. Their faces are covered with boils, and there are all kinds of evidences of tuberculosis. It makes a man realize what the world really is."

"I am the picture of health, but I do not think I could live in that jail two months. It is absolutely impossible to ventilate the cells, and the convicts suffer as a result."

Othello's Brain Storm.

Was Othello mad as well as Ham let? The question was discussed in the supreme court at Melbourne. Said Chief Justice Sir John Madden: "Then from your point of view Othello was not responsible for his actions when he killed Desdemona?" The witness (Dr. Jones, Inspector general of asylums for the Insane) replied: "From such evidence as the text of the play affords, I should say Othello was suffering from that species of mental disorder termed paranoia. He became obsessed by delusions and thought them realities."

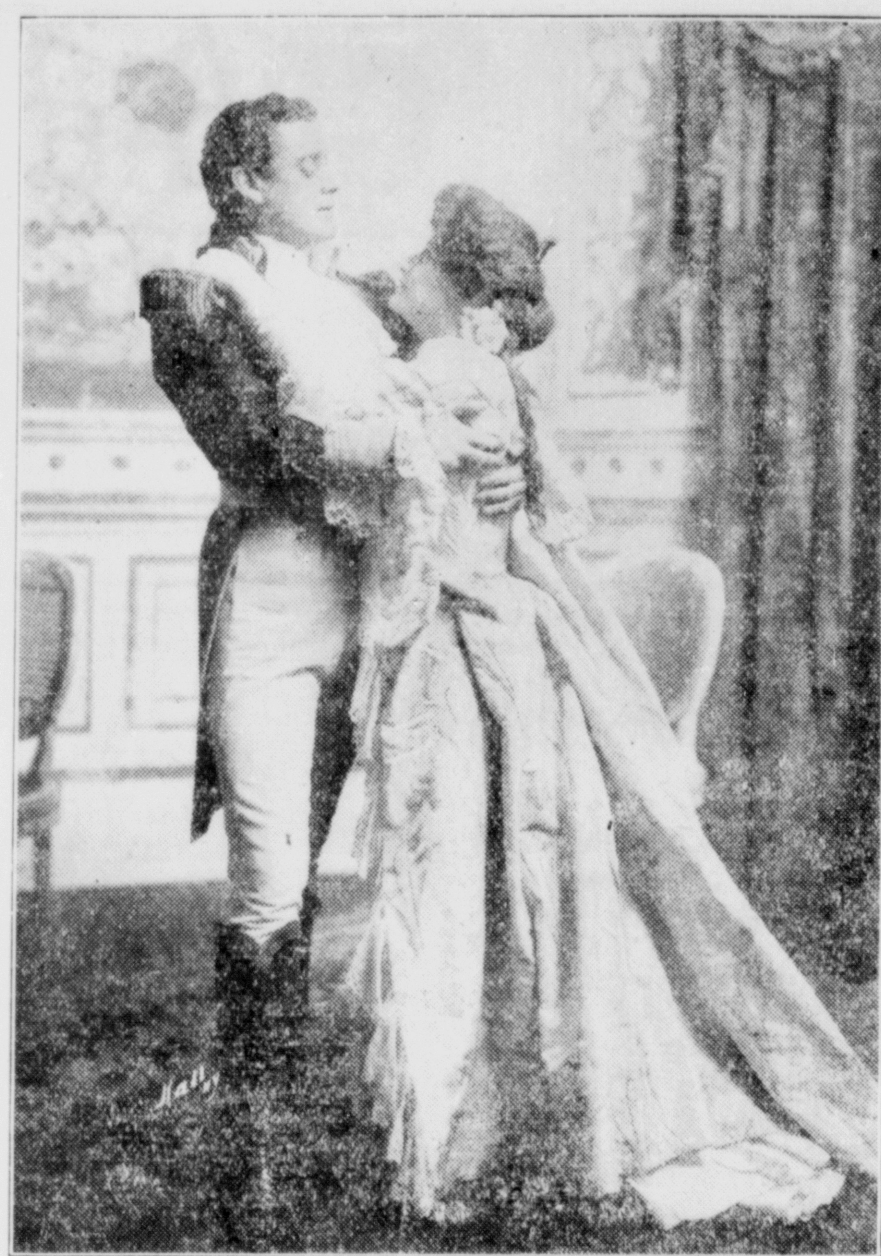

The Summer Don't.

The sage advice
That some men give
Makes earth a place
Where man must live
In terror of
A warning tone
Which ever shouts,
"Let that alone!"

The cup which cools
When warm the day;
The outdoor game
You love to play;
The tempting dish
For feasting shown—
Let them alone!
Let them alone!

The sparkling spring
Where germs may lie;
The early fruit
Within the pie;
In matrimony
May bid you groan—
Let them alone!
Let them alone!

But most of all
Avoid the man
Who always does
Whatever he can
To make the day's
Discomfort known—
Let them alone!
Let them alone!
—Washington Star.

The Janizaries.

Once in five years all the children of Christian parents who had reached the age of seven years and gave promise of mental and physical soundness were taken from their homes and brought to Constantinople, where they were placed under instruction. They were subjected the meanwhile to severe training to fit them for the profession of arms. From this body was formed the famous organization known as the Janizaries. Forbidden to marry and with no families to engage their affections, their whole business was to fight for the Turkish state and region. Later on the organization experienced a change, its members being allowed to marry, but it remained practically unchanged until the time of Philip II.

FORGIVENESS.

Every one has his weak points; every one has his faults; we may make the worst of these; we may fix our attention constantly upon these. But we may also make the best of one another. We may forgive, even as we hope to be forgiven.—A. P. Stanley.

The Right of Speech.

No right was deemed by the fathers of the government more sacred than the right of speech. It was in their eyes, as in the eyes of all thoughtful men, the great moral renovator of society and government. Daniel Webster called it a home bred right, a fire-side privilege. Liberty is meaningless where the right to utter one's thought and opinions has ceased to exist. That of all rights is the dread of tyrants. It is the right which they first of all strike down. They know its power. Thrones, dominions, principalities and powers founded in injustice and wrong are sure to tremble if men are allowed to reason for righteousness, temperance and of a judgment to come in their presence.—Frederick Douglass.

GO TO THE RESCUE

Don't Wait Till It's Too Late—Follow the Example of a Brainerd Citizen

Rescue the aching back. If it keeps on aching, trouble comes. Backache is kidney ache. If you neglect the kidney's warning, look out for urinary trouble—diabetes.

This Brainerd citizen will show you how to go to the rescue. Thomas Sizeland, 827 S. Seventh St., Brainerd, Minn., says: "About two years ago I obtained a supply of Doan's Kidney Pills from a local druggist, as I was suffering acutely from pains across my hips, especially severe when I stopped or got up after sitting. My kidneys were disordered and their secretions contained sediment. I also had dull, headaches and dizzy spells and was hardly able to attend to my work. Before I had finished the contents of one box of Doan's Pills, I was relieved so greatly that I publicly endorsed them. I can still speak highly of this remedy and I take pleasure in doing so." For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Generosity.
Patrick worked for a notoriously stingy boss and lost no chance to let the fact be known. Once a warlike friend, wishing to twist him, remarked: "Pat, I hear your boss just gave you a brand new suit of clothes." "No," said Pat, "only a part of a suit." "What part?" "The sleeves by the vest."—New York Times.

The One Flaw.
"I suppose you are engaged to the duke?" "Well, nearly." "What's the hitch? Awaiting his father's consent?" "No; he can't marry without a majority favorable report from his creditors."—Kansas City Journal.

"That fellow looks rather comfortable in spite of the weather." "Yes; he takes things easy. He's a pickpocket, you know."—New York Times.

A Pessimist.
A pessimist is a person who tells you that what appears to be a silver lining in your cloud is only a low grade of tin foil.—Galveston News.

Loss of Time Means Loss of Pay

Kidney trouble and the ills it breeds means lost time and lost pay to many a working man. M. Balent, 1214 Little Penna St., Streator, Ill., was so bad from kidney and bladder trouble that he could not work, but he says: "I took Foley's Kidney Pills for only a short time and got entirely well and was soon able to go back to work, and am feeling well and healthier than before." Foley's Kidney Pills are tonic in action, quick in results—a good friend to the working man or woman who suffers from kidney ills. For sale by all druggists. mwf
